Mr. Robert McEllrath President International Longshore and Warehouse Union 1188 Franklin Street, 4th Floor San Francisco, CA 94109 Mr. James McKenna Chairman and CEO Pacific Maritime Association 555 Market Street, Third Floor San Francisco, CA 94105

Dear Mr. McEllrath and Mr. McKenna:

On behalf of the undersigned organizations representing manufacturers, farmers and agribusinesses, wholesalers, retailers, importers, exporters, distributors, and transportation and logistics providers we again call upon the International Longshore and Warehouse Union (ILWU) and the Pacific Maritime Association (PMA) to quickly conclude a new labor agreement. Many U.S. and Canadian stakeholders we represent are already experiencing severe negative effects of delayed shipments. Unless addressed by the two negotiating parties, this situation will soon start to have a broader negative impact on the U.S. and broader North American economies.

We fully respect the collective bargaining process and understand the importance of the remaining issues for both management and labor. However, our members are concerned that there has been no visible progress in the negotiations since August, when the ILWU and PMA announced a "tentative deal" on health benefits. As we noted in our letters of May 9th and July 9th, the financial and economic situation for thousands of importers and exporters who rely on the West Coast ports, and their millions of employees and business partners, rest on the timely conclusion of a new port labor contract.

We understand the need for the media blackout during the negotiations, and we appreciate the parties remaining at the table throughout the process. However, we are now at a point where a new contract must be finalized soon in order to allay growing concerns of thousands of businesses who rely on West Coast ports for orderly and timely supply chain operations. The congestion problems at key West Coast ports in both the U.S. and Canada are getting worse each day, and the absence of a new signed contract between the ILWU and PMA is a significant contributing factor. Many of the stakeholders that we represent are already experiencing significant adverse effects of delays in moving their cargo. Again, this will soon start to have a negative impact on the overall economy.

We ask that both parties recognize that time is of the essence. We encourage you to stay the course, complete the contract negotiations as soon as possible and work to resolve the current congestion issues without further interrupting the flow of commerce. We believe that a new agreement can be reached that will be fair to both parties and ensure the continued success and competitiveness of West Coast ports, your organizations and the stakeholders who rely on the timely and efficient movement of goods through the ports.

Sincerely,
